

MRI Club Launch

We are excited to announce that the MRI Club will officially launch this month! The club is intended as an open and collaborative space to discuss a wide range of human MRI-related topics — from processing strategies and methodological approaches to the latest research developments in the field. Beyond scientific discussions, the club will also provide an opportunity to exchange ideas, share knowledge, and gather feedback on your own research projects and challenges.

Our first meeting will take place on May 21st from 2:00 to 3:00 pm.

This initial session will be a brainstorming meeting where we would like to discuss which topics and interests should be most strongly represented within the club and which themes we should focus on in the upcoming sessions.

So, if you are interested in actively contributing to the MRI Club, shaping its future topics, and becoming part of the discussion, we would be very happy to have you join us.
